Note on the Medical Institutions attached to the General & Revenue Secretariat. 2

Personnel.

I. Head Quarter Medical Establishment.

This institution, a part of which is called the "Dispensary attached to the Public Offices, Bangalore" has undergone vicissitudes, from time to time, as stated in the office note of 17th July 1914 in Medical File 153-13. Dr.A.S. Fernandez was the first Medical Officer, attached to the "Head-Quarter Establishment and for General Duty." He held charge of this office from 19th August 1884 till 1st April 1893. He seems to have been succeeded by Mr.P.S.Achyuta Rao in October 1890. It is understood, however, that this was an additional duty which devolved on him for a short period only. In 1892, at the suggestion of Col.T.J.McGann, the then Senior Surgeon, a Medical Officer of the grade of an Assistant Surgeon was detailed as a whole-time Officer" for attendance on the officials and servants of the Dewan's Establishment" In April 1904, a permanent Hospital Assistant (Sub-Assistant Surgeon) was attached to assist the Assistant Surgeon. This staff would appear to have been attached as a part of Dewan's Personal Staff from the said date. This state of affairs continued until 1909, when Pradhana Siromani Mr.T.Ananda Rao, ordered the location of the Dispensary in the --

Government in this connection.

Practice in Madras.

As for the practice in the Madras Secretariat, from a demi-official reference received from the Senior Surgeon in Mysore, it is seen that there is no Medical Officer of a higher grade or subordinate grade, deputed to render medical aid exclusively to the Members and Secretaries to the Government of Madras; nor is there any Dispensary (except at Ootacamond) attached to the Madras Secretariat.

Vaidyasala.

It may also be noted that a Native Physician, designated as "Hakim" has been attached to the Central Office ever since the days of British Commission. His pay had then been fixed at Rs.40/- plus an allowance of Rs.20/- for medicine. The present physician, Narasimha Pandit, was entertained in 1904 on a pay of Rs.15/- which has been increased from time to time, according to exigencies. It now stands at Rs.30/- per mensem, with a Medicine Allowance of Rs.15/- per mensem which is met out of General and Revenue Secretariat Contingencies, the pay being debited to the General and Revenue Secretariat Establishment.

This Pandit has also been catering to the medical needs of the menials, the higher officials of the Secretariat and other offices.

Submitted to His Highness.

The present Headquarters Medical Establishment owes its origin to the appointment of a whole-time Medical Officer for attendance "on the Officials and servants of the Dewan's Establishment" in 1892. The post was for all practical purposes a staff appointment although the officer in charge was required to attend not only on the Dewan but also the Members of Council, Secretaries to Government and Heads of Departments whenever he was at Bangalore and the dispensary under the charge of the Officer was located in the -- Dewan's residence. It was removed to the Secretariat under the orders of the late Dewan Pradhana Siromani T. Ananda Rao in 1909. The total annual emoluments of the Officer now holding the post, are as Rs. 6,840 (Rs. 570 per mensem)

A Hospital Assistant (now a Sub Assistant Surgeon) was attached to the establishment in 1904. This official was specially appointed to assist the medical officer in the work at Headquarters and did not accompany the Dewan on tours. The services of a Compounder have also been provided to the Dispensary after its removal to the Secretariat building. But, while the pay of the -- Sub Assistant Surgeon (Rs. 77 plus 30) is met from the Medical budget, the Compounder is borne on the establishment of the General & Revenue Secretariat as a mutchi. He gets a pay of Rs. 23 per mensem and a cycle allowance of Rs. 7-8-0. A peon (Rs. 11) is allowed to the Medical Officer from the General and Revenue Secretariat and also a contingency allowance of Rs. 2 per mensem, is also given from the Secretariat contingent grant.

The total cost now incurred on account of the Head Quarter -- establishment, exclusive of the costof medicines supplied from the Medical Stores, is:-

		Per annum.
Debited to the Medical Budget.	1. Pay of Medical Officer. (Civil Surgeon. Rs.570)	Rs. 6,840
	2. Pay of Sub Assistant Surgeon. (Rs. 77 plus Rs. 30.)	" 1,284

		Rs.
Debited to the G.R.S.Budget - 1.Pay of mutchi.	23-0-0
Cycle allowance	7-8-0
2.Contingencies	2-0-0	522
3.Pay of peon	11-0-0
Total Rs.		8,646

There is also a native Vaidyasala attached to the Secretariat. This Vaidyasala appears to have been in existence since the days of the British Commission. The expenditure incurred on it at present is Rs.30 - the pay of the Pandit, and Rs.15 - allowance for his medicines, or Rs.540 in all. The total expenditure incurred in providing medical assistance in the Head-quarter Establishment is Rs.8,646 plus Rs.540 or Rs.9,186.

In spite of this large expenditure, the dispensaries are not properly equipped and as early as March 1914, the Senior Surgeon considered "the maintenance of a dispensary in the midst of offices and during working hours appears to be unnecessary". As the hospitals in Bangalore are fully equipped and are ready at all hours to proviae any assistance that may be required, the maintenance of a separate dispensary for the General and Revenue Secretariat is an unnecessary luxury. Both the dispensary and the Vaidyasala may be abolished, the native Pandit being provided with a post in one of the our Ayurvedic dispensaries.

The excrescences which have gathered from time to time around the head-quarter medical establishment being abolished, a medical officer of the grade of Assistant Surgeon may be appointed on the staff of the Dewan. He will be selected by the Senior Surgeon and will draw a Duty Allowance of Rs.50 in addition to his grade pay. He will be given the services of one peon and will be entitled to no other allowances except travelling allowances under the usual rules. In order to avoid this medical officer losing touch with his profession, the term of his duty on the staff will ordinarily be fixed for one year only, a separate officer being posted for staff duty at the expiry of each official year. He will also attend on the Members of Council and if His Highness s e e s

2. The Hospitals in Bangalore and Mysore, which are fully equipped, are available at all hours to provide medical assistance that may be required to all members of the public, including Government servants.
